

1. Is it better to get advice from a friend or from a family member?

I think it depends on the kind of advice that you need. Parents and grandparents probably have more life experience than a friend, and so you might get a wiser or more sensible answer from them. On the other hand, friends are less likely to become too worried if you go to them with a problem. For example, I probably wouldn't want to burden my parents with a financial problem.

Life experience 生活经验

A wiser or more sensible answer 一个更加智慧或更理性的答案

On the other hand 另一方面（不是并列、而是转折）

Be more/less likely to do sth 更/不是很有可能..

Burden sb with a financial problem 因为经济问题去麻烦/求助父母

2. What would you say are the characteristics of a good adviser?

Well, firstly, a good adviser should be a good listener, someone who takes the time to understand the situation before offering advice. Secondly, an adviser should try to be objective, and avoid judging the person who is seeking help. Finally, I think the best advisers have the ability to ask the right questions and encourage others to find their own answers.

Take the time to do sth 花费时间去...

Offer advice

Objective 客观的

Avoid doing sth 避免...

Judge sb 评判某人

Seek help 寻求帮助

Encourage sb to do sth 鼓励某人做某事

3. Should people make their own work and career decisions, or is it a good idea to ask for advice about this?

I'd say that it's a mixture of both things. Most of us talk to family, friends, teachers or colleagues before we make career choices. However, I believe that the final decision should rest with the individual; we all need to take ultimate responsibility for the big life choices that we make.

A mixture of both things 两者的统一/综合体

Make career choices 做关于工作/事业的决定

The final decision should rest with the individual 最终决定由更人来定

Take ultimate responsibility for sth 为...做最终决定
