

Describe a long journey you would like to go on again

You should say

Where you went

Who you went with

What you did on that trip

And explain why you would like to go on the journey again.

Um, earlier this year, I went to Japan with my girlfriend. Actually, to be precise, we went to Hokkaido and we were there from the 1st to the 6th of January. You know, my girlfriend had always been a big fan of Japanese culture and she could even speak Japanese fluently, so she had been longing to go to Japan for ages. We chose to go to Hokkaido because it was in winter, and everything there was covered in a layer of white which was so beautiful.

As for what we did there ...well, um, we did a few things. For starters, we would stay at a different hotel each night and all of them had hot springs. Actually, that was a major part of the trip. We would go and totally relax in the hot springs each night. Plus, on the fifth day of our trip, we went to Sapporo. We did a lot of shopping, especially for cosmetics.

Um, you know, I would like to go there again primarily because of the views. They really took my breath away on my first day there. You could see snow everywhere and it seemed like the whole world was covered in white. Another reason is my parents haven't been abroad before, so I think Hokkaido could be the first foreign place they go to. Of course, I shouldn't forget to mention the hot springs. They're what I've been missing the most since I came back.
