

What are the advantages of smartphones?

Um, off the top of my head, I'd say smartphones enable us to have access to information anytime anywhere. You know, as long as we have internet connection, we can read news, find information that we need and search for solutions to problems we might have. Plus, our lives are more fun. You know, when you take the bus or the subway, it's not uncommon to see almost everyone is either reading something or playing games or watching shows with their smartphones. Commuting used to be dull and boring, but not anymore.

Off the top of my head 我第一想到的是

Have access to 能得到...

Have internet connection

Search for solutions to problems

Commute v. 通勤 (坐公共交通)

Dull and boring 很无聊

Do smartphones have any negative effect on our lives?

Yeah sure. For starters, people are over-reliant on them nowadays, which causes us to not think deeply about how to solve problems. In my case, every time I run into a problem, I just google the solution. I suppose I've kind of become a lazy thinker. Also, I think smartphones affect our long-term memory storage. By that, I mean we store everything on our phones like our contacts, friends' birthdays, when our next appointment with the doctor is, etc etc. It's likely that we won't be able to remember things as well as before.

For starters 首先

Be over-reliant on sth 过于依赖...

In my case 拿我举例

Run into a problem 碰到一个问题

Google sth

Affect our long-term memory storage 影响我们的长期记忆

Contacts 联系人信息
